What parents and guardians should know about attendance support

In response to requests from board members, we have added more time for the public hearing. Printed copies are available at the north campus, and the full details on the technology refresh are posted online. Funding for graduation planning comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Details on the energy savings project are listed below, along with who to contact at the aquatic center. Printed copies are available at the main office, and the full details on the senior lunch program are posted online.

Staff members are invited to learn more about the arts showcase on weekday mornings. Funding for crossing guard coverage comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Last month, more than 64 teachers took part in the energy savings project, which exceeded our goal.

Please check back on weekday mornings for the latest news on the farmers market. This schedule is part of a larger effort to support neighbors and to keep the public hearing on track. For the new reading curriculum, the plan is to start small this fall and grow based on what students tell us. Over the past year, parents and guardians told us that the arts showcase was a priority, and this plan reflects that.

Over the past year, board members told us that the facilities plan was a priority, and this review reflects that. The volunteer-led program covers the emergency plan and explains how families can get involved over the winter break. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the main office about language classes. Questions about crossing guard coverage can be directed to the gymnasium, where someone is available to help.
