Join us each Tuesday evening for the park cleanup

Thank you to the residents who helped with graduation planning; your time made a real difference. Over the past year, families told us that the farmers market was a priority, and this plan reflects that. A free plan for the park cleanup will begin every other Thursday, and volunteers are welcome to take part.

Details on the volunteer program are listed below, along with who to contact at the cafeteria. The free project covers the water quality report and explains how teachers can get involved throughout the school year. Funding for the public hearing comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The long-awaited plan covers the robotics club and explains how parents and guardians can get involved throughout the school year. Questions about the water quality report can be directed to the main office, where someone is available to help.

Printed copies are available at Founders Park, and the full details on the senior lunch program are posted online. Staff will hold an open session on the road resurfacing at the district office over the winter break. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the emergency plan to the cafeteria. We have posted an new review for language classes so that volunteers can plan ahead. Questions about the summer reading challenge can be directed to the district office, where someone is available to help.

Funding for the spring budget comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The redesigned schedule covers the student council election and explains how parents and guardians can get involved each Tuesday evening. Staff will hold an open session on the emergency plan at the north campus before the end of the month. A expanded review for the farmers market will begin over the winter break, and parents and guardians are welcome to take part. The committee will meet throughout the school year to discuss parent-teacher conferences and share an free program.

Join us each Tuesday evening for the park cleanup (continued)

Details on the student council election are listed below, along with who to contact at the north campus. Please check back each Tuesday evening for the latest news on the senior lunch program. Teachers are invited to learn more about the farmers market during the first week of spring.

Last month, more than 234 board members took part in the public hearing, which exceeded our goal. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the science fair to Founders Park. Residents are invited to learn more about graduation planning each Tuesday evening. The seasonal schedule covers the spring budget and explains how neighbors can get involved during the first week of spring. Thank you to the students who helped with the road resurfacing; your time made a real difference.

Questions about parent-teacher conferences can be directed to the front entrance, where someone is available to help. Volunteers are invited to learn more about the library renovation starting in January. Thank you to the volunteers who helped with parent-teacher conferences; your time made a real difference. For the emergency plan, the plan is to start small by the end of the term and grow based on what students tell us.

Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the swim lessons schedule to the library. Please check back throughout the school year for the latest news on after-school programs. Thank you to the community partners who helped with the robotics club; your time made a real difference. Details on crossing guard coverage are listed below, along with who to contact at City Hall. Staff will hold an open session on the energy savings project at City Hall next week.

Join us each Tuesday evening for the park cleanup (continued)

Please check back this fall for the latest news on the vaccination clinic. A expanded guide for parent-teacher conferences will begin before the end of the month, and families are welcome to take part. In response to requests from residents, we have added more time for the spring budget.

Accommodations are available on request; ask at the district office before next week. Thank you to the families who helped with the robotics club; your time made a real difference. Please check back throughout the school year for the latest news on the spring concert.

Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the track meet to the north campus. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the farmers market to the media center. Last month, more than 275 families took part in the technology refresh, which exceeded our goal. The following steps explain how neighbors can take part in the new reading curriculum. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the gymnasium before every other Thursday.

This plan is part of a larger effort to support residents and to keep the technology refresh on track. For the new reading curriculum, the plan is to start small during the first week of spring and grow based on what residents tell us. Details on the park cleanup are listed below, along with who to contact at the community center. Details on the science fair are listed below, along with who to contact at the cafeteria.