The spring budget moves forward

Changes to attendance support take effect throughout the school year, and neighbors will receive a reminder beforehand. We have posted an updated review for crossing guard coverage so that students can plan ahead. Questions about the winter food drive can be directed to the north campus, where someone is available to help. This service is part of a larger effort to support parents and guardians and to keep the sports physical clinic on track. The popular workshop covers graduation planning and explains how neighbors can get involved throughout the school year.

Last month, more than 351 volunteers took part in safety drills, which exceeded our goal. Information about the college and career fair is now available to students at the aquatic center. Details on the new playground are listed below, along with who to contact at the front entrance. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the spring concert to the front entrance.

Please check back next week for the latest news on the winter food drive. In response to requests from staff members, we have added more time for the library renovation. The team reviewed feedback on safety drills and made several changes to the service. Staff will hold an open session on the volunteer program at the media center before the end of the month. This program is part of a larger effort to support families and to keep the community garden on track.

Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit Founders Park about attendance support. Please check back over the winter break for the latest news on school lunch menus. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the front entrance before starting in January.

The spring budget moves forward (continued)

Printed copies are available at the library, and the full details on the winter food drive are posted online. For the science fair, the plan is to start small over the winter break and grow based on what teachers tell us. Questions about the arts showcase can be directed to the aquatic center, where someone is available to help. Staff will hold an open session on the volunteer program at the library by the end of the term. Funding for the vaccination clinic comes from the regular budget and from local partners.

Staff will hold an open session on the robotics club at the aquatic center by the end of the term. We have posted an free guide for the road resurfacing so that parents and guardians can plan ahead. The popular guide covers the college and career fair and explains how parents and guardians can get involved this fall. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the public hearing to the gymnasium. In response to requests from board members, we have added more time for the park cleanup.

Accommodations are available on request; ask at the aquatic center before during the first week of spring. The committee will meet every other Thursday to discuss after-school programs and share an volunteer-led service. Last month, more than 151 students took part in the park cleanup, which exceeded our goal. We have posted an redesigned service for the facilities plan so that neighbors can plan ahead.

Printed copies are available at the front entrance, and the full details on the track meet are posted online. Information about the robotics club is now available to neighbors at the media center. Staff members are invited to learn more about the library renovation every other Thursday.

The spring budget moves forward (continued)

Residents are invited to learn more about bus routes every other Thursday. Over the past year, neighbors told us that language classes was a priority, and this session reflects that. The team reviewed feedback on the college and career fair and made several changes to the report. Funding for the new reading curriculum comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the aquatic center before next week.

Over the past year, teachers told us that the energy savings project was a priority, and this program reflects that. Last month, more than 23 community partners took part in after-school programs, which exceeded our goal. Changes to the vaccination clinic take effect before the end of the month, and parents and guardians will receive a reminder beforehand.

Thank you to the families who helped with the student council election; your time made a real difference. This schedule is part of a larger effort to support teachers and to keep the summer reading challenge on track. Changes to after-school programs take effect before the end of the month, and teachers will receive a reminder beforehand. Information about the library renovation is now available to residents at the gymnasium.

Thank you to the neighbors who helped with the volunteer program; your time made a real difference. The improved service covers the energy savings project and explains how parents and guardians can get involved over the winter break. This service is part of a larger effort to support families and to keep safety drills on track. The improved schedule covers the calendar for next year and explains how neighbors can get involved by the end of the term. Details on the science fair are listed below, along with who to contact at the library.