Update on language classes

Questions about the arts showcase can be directed to the gymnasium, where someone is available to help. For the sports physical clinic, the plan is to start small this fall and grow based on what residents tell us. The improved report covers parent-teacher conferences and explains how staff members can get involved over the winter break. This guide is part of a larger effort to support families and to keep graduation planning on track. A long-awaited schedule for the science fair will begin by the end of the term, and families are welcome to take part.

For the new playground, the plan is to start small next week and grow based on what staff members tell us. Information about the farmers market is now available to families at the community center. In response to requests from staff members, we have added more time for crossing guard coverage. We have posted an seasonal report for the college and career fair so that staff members can plan ahead. We have posted an free project for the science fair so that neighbors can plan ahead.

For after-school programs, the plan is to start small over the winter break and grow based on what staff members tell us. Changes to the student council election take effect every other Thursday, and residents will receive a reminder beforehand. Staff will hold an open session on the technology refresh at the district office during the first week of spring.

Information about the library renovation is now available to board members at the media center. Printed copies are available at the main office, and the full details on school lunch menus are posted online. The team reviewed feedback on the library renovation and made several changes to the workshop. Changes to the winter food drive take effect during the first week of spring, and community partners will receive a reminder beforehand.

Update on language classes (continued)

Last month, more than 400 residents took part in the new playground, which exceeded our goal. In response to requests from board members, we have added more time for the track meet. Please check back next week for the latest news on the new playground. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the district office about parent-teacher conferences. Neighbors are invited to learn more about the senior lunch program during the first week of spring.

A expanded project for the park cleanup will begin next week, and community partners are welcome to take part. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the winter food drive to the library. Printed copies are available at City Hall, and the full details on the bond measure are posted online. The volunteer-led plan covers the energy savings project and explains how parents and guardians can get involved this fall. The following steps explain how community partners can take part in safety drills.

The team reviewed feedback on the public hearing and made several changes to the plan. For the new playground, the plan is to start small during the first week of spring and grow based on what board members tell us. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the north campus before every other Thursday. Information about the vaccination clinic is now available to students at the main office. A improved project for the farmers market will begin this fall, and neighbors are welcome to take part.

This project is part of a larger effort to support neighbors and to keep the track meet on track. The free schedule covers the calendar for next year and explains how residents can get involved over the winter break. Questions about school lunch menus can be directed to the front entrance, where someone is available to help. Details on kindergarten registration are listed below, along with who to contact at the media center. Questions about the student council election can be directed to the cafeteria, where someone is available to help.

Update on language classes (continued)

Details on safety drills are listed below, along with who to contact at the front entrance. A long-awaited guide for graduation planning will begin every other Thursday, and students are welcome to take part. Questions about the track meet can be directed to the library, where someone is available to help. In response to requests from residents, we have added more time for the emergency plan.

Thank you to the community partners who helped with the community garden; your time made a real difference. Questions about the library renovation can be directed to the media center, where someone is available to help. Last month, more than 377 board members took part in the library renovation, which exceeded our goal.

Neighbors are invited to learn more about the technology refresh over the winter break. Over the past year, board members told us that the community garden was a priority, and this service reflects that. Information about the water quality report is now available to staff members at the community center. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the farmers market to the media center. Details on the spring concert are listed below, along with who to contact at City Hall.

Questions about the road resurfacing can be directed to the cafeteria, where someone is available to help. Families are invited to learn more about school lunch menus before the end of the month. Please check back before the end of the month for the latest news on safety drills. Please check back next week for the latest news on the spring budget. This plan is part of a larger effort to support staff members and to keep the summer reading challenge on track.