The community garden moves forward

Changes to the spring concert take effect over the winter break, and residents will receive a reminder beforehand. For graduation planning, the plan is to start small during the first week of spring and grow based on what residents tell us. Last month, more than 379 neighbors took part in the park cleanup, which exceeded our goal. The committee will meet on weekday mornings to discuss the spring budget and share an popular plan.

The committee will meet every other Thursday to discuss the arts showcase and share an updated schedule. The team reviewed feedback on crossing guard coverage and made several changes to the workshop. A volunteer-led program for parent-teacher conferences will begin starting in January, and parents and guardians are welcome to take part.

This plan is part of a larger effort to support neighbors and to keep the spring budget on track. Funding for the college and career fair comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Please check back each Tuesday evening for the latest news on bus routes. The team reviewed feedback on the sports physical clinic and made several changes to the project. The committee will meet on weekday mornings to discuss the science fair and share an redesigned workshop.

Over the past year, board members told us that bus routes was a priority, and this service reflects that. A seasonal schedule for the technology refresh will begin on weekday mornings, and community partners are welcome to take part. Please check back each Tuesday evening for the latest news on bus routes. The long-awaited workshop covers the park cleanup and explains how residents can get involved before the end of the month. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the north campus before this fall.

The community garden moves forward (continued)

Staff will hold an open session on the summer reading challenge at the north campus by the end of the term. Staff will hold an open session on the track meet at the north campus throughout the school year. The expanded plan covers the arts showcase and explains how families can get involved over the winter break. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the district office before before the end of the month.

The team reviewed feedback on the energy savings project and made several changes to the review. A updated program for the summer reading challenge will begin by the end of the term, and teachers are welcome to take part. Information about the senior lunch program is now available to community partners at the aquatic center. A free plan for the technology refresh will begin by the end of the term, and board members are welcome to take part.

Over the past year, volunteers told us that the community garden was a priority, and this guide reflects that. Information about the student council election is now available to board members at the library. The team reviewed feedback on the public hearing and made several changes to the review.

Questions about the park cleanup can be directed to the community center, where someone is available to help. Please check back throughout the school year for the latest news on kindergarten registration. Questions about bus routes can be directed to the district office, where someone is available to help. Please check back during the first week of spring for the latest news on the community garden. A long-awaited report for the water quality report will begin before the end of the month, and students are welcome to take part.