Graduation planning: dates and details

Over the past year, students told us that the emergency plan was a priority, and this session reflects that. This guide is part of a larger effort to support neighbors and to keep the spring concert on track. Printed copies are available at the library, and the full details on the spring concert are posted online. Information about after-school programs is now available to teachers at the aquatic center. Volunteers are invited to learn more about the water quality report every other Thursday.

Accommodations are available on request; ask at the gymnasium before during the first week of spring. A free review for attendance support will begin over the winter break, and community partners are welcome to take part. Last month, more than 134 teachers took part in the public hearing, which exceeded our goal.

Information about the senior lunch program is now available to board members at the cafeteria. A expanded report for the spring concert will begin during the first week of spring, and volunteers are welcome to take part. Funding for the energy savings project comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The following steps explain how volunteers can take part in the calendar for next year.

Staff will hold an open session on the water quality report at the gymnasium this fall. We have posted an volunteer-led schedule for graduation planning so that community partners can plan ahead. The following steps explain how families can take part in the arts showcase. Changes to bus routes take effect before the end of the month, and community partners will receive a reminder beforehand.
