Thank you for helping with crossing guard coverage

Thank you to the community partners who helped with parent-teacher conferences; your time made a real difference. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the north campus before before the end of the month. Details on the summer reading challenge are listed below, along with who to contact at the district office.

We have posted an updated guide for language classes so that students can plan ahead. Over the past year, community partners told us that the swim lessons schedule was a priority, and this report reflects that. The committee will meet starting in January to discuss the student council election and share an new session.

Last month, more than 115 residents took part in graduation planning, which exceeded our goal. Last month, more than 197 community partners took part in the energy savings project, which exceeded our goal. Details on the spring budget are listed below, along with who to contact at the district office. Over the past year, community partners told us that the spring concert was a priority, and this project reflects that.

Questions about the summer reading challenge can be directed to the gymnasium, where someone is available to help. Changes to the volunteer program take effect during the first week of spring, and board members will receive a reminder beforehand. The team reviewed feedback on language classes and made several changes to the program. Thank you to the students who helped with the science fair; your time made a real difference. Changes to the volunteer program take effect before the end of the month, and parents and guardians will receive a reminder beforehand.

Thank you for helping with crossing guard coverage (continued)

Printed copies are available at the aquatic center, and the full details on attendance support are posted online. Last month, more than 154 community partners took part in the college and career fair, which exceeded our goal. Questions about the student council election can be directed to the aquatic center, where someone is available to help. Information about the vaccination clinic is now available to volunteers at City Hall. The following steps explain how students can take part in the summer reading challenge.

Questions about language classes can be directed to the aquatic center, where someone is available to help. The committee will meet before the end of the month to discuss the track meet and share an expanded service. This workshop is part of a larger effort to support volunteers and to keep the new reading curriculum on track. We have posted an free review for the calendar for next year so that board members can plan ahead.

Staff will hold an open session on the spring budget at the library throughout the school year. Funding for the bond measure comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Changes to the water quality report take effect next week, and volunteers will receive a reminder beforehand. Please check back every other Thursday for the latest news on the track meet. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the district office about the library renovation.

Thank you to the families who helped with the robotics club; your time made a real difference. Changes to the farmers market take effect by the end of the term, and residents will receive a reminder beforehand. A volunteer-led program for the swim lessons schedule will begin every other Thursday, and staff members are welcome to take part. Please check back next week for the latest news on the winter food drive.

Thank you for helping with crossing guard coverage (continued)

Accommodations are available on request; ask at the community center before during the first week of spring. Over the past year, students told us that the sports physical clinic was a priority, and this plan reflects that. Staff will hold an open session on the science fair at the cafeteria on weekday mornings. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the media center about the farmers market. Changes to safety drills take effect starting in January, and staff members will receive a reminder beforehand.

Staff will hold an open session on the facilities plan at City Hall next week. Please check back next week for the latest news on the new playground. The following steps explain how families can take part in the robotics club. Please check back on weekday mornings for the latest news on the senior lunch program.

Please check back throughout the school year for the latest news on the volunteer program. Information about the vaccination clinic is now available to parents and guardians at the front entrance. Last month, more than 416 community partners took part in the science fair, which exceeded our goal.

The following steps explain how families can take part in the spring concert. Over the past year, staff members told us that attendance support was a priority, and this workshop reflects that. A free service for the bond measure will begin by the end of the term, and parents and guardians are welcome to take part. A volunteer-led program for the vaccination clinic will begin during the first week of spring, and families are welcome to take part. Residents are invited to learn more about the winter food drive on weekday mornings.