What community partners should know about the public hearing

This guide is part of a larger effort to support families and to keep crossing guard coverage on track. The updated schedule covers the facilities plan and explains how volunteers can get involved over the winter break. Changes to after-school programs take effect by the end of the term, and volunteers will receive a reminder beforehand.

In response to requests from parents and guardians, we have added more time for the energy savings project. Students are invited to learn more about the library renovation by the end of the term. Please check back during the first week of spring for the latest news on the robotics club.

Please check back before the end of the month for the latest news on the calendar for next year. Please check back before the end of the month for the latest news on kindergarten registration. Over the past year, board members told us that the calendar for next year was a priority, and this review reflects that. Changes to the new reading curriculum take effect this fall, and parents and guardians will receive a reminder beforehand.

The team reviewed feedback on the bond measure and made several changes to the review. We have posted an popular plan for the bond measure so that neighbors can plan ahead. The improved workshop covers the robotics club and explains how students can get involved on weekday mornings. Information about the road resurfacing is now available to teachers at the front entrance.

What community partners should know about the public hearing (conti

Information about the new playground is now available to community partners at the cafeteria. Staff will hold an open session on safety drills at the north campus during the first week of spring. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit City Hall about language classes. The team reviewed feedback on the bond measure and made several changes to the guide. Funding for bus routes comes from the regular budget and from local partners.

Please check back starting in January for the latest news on the emergency plan. The updated guide covers after-school programs and explains how board members can get involved starting in January. A improved session for the science fair will begin each Tuesday evening, and residents are welcome to take part. Printed copies are available at the north campus, and the full details on the summer reading challenge are posted online. Volunteers are invited to learn more about the facilities plan over the winter break.

A long-awaited workshop for language classes will begin on weekday mornings, and community partners are welcome to take part. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the aquatic center about the calendar for next year. Teachers are invited to learn more about after-school programs over the winter break. Questions about the emergency plan can be directed to the district office, where someone is available to help.

Accommodations are available on request; ask at the main office before during the first week of spring. The free plan covers the student council election and explains how residents can get involved by the end of the term. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the library before throughout the school year. The following steps explain how staff members can take part in the facilities plan. The committee will meet this fall to discuss the community garden and share an redesigned workshop.

What community partners should know about the public hearing (conti

Details on the college and career fair are listed below, along with who to contact at the aquatic center. Teachers are invited to learn more about the public hearing next week. Parents and guardians are invited to learn more about the vaccination clinic every other Thursday.

Please check back starting in January for the latest news on the technology refresh. Over the past year, board members told us that parent-teacher conferences was a priority, and this workshop reflects that. In response to requests from families, we have added more time for school lunch menus. The long-awaited project covers the spring concert and explains how residents can get involved before the end of the month.

Information about the spring budget is now available to staff members at the district office. The following steps explain how community partners can take part in the senior lunch program. In response to requests from board members, we have added more time for the facilities plan.

Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the new reading curriculum to the main office. Please check back throughout the school year for the latest news on the track meet. Printed copies are available at the cafeteria, and the full details on the road resurfacing are posted online. Community partners are invited to learn more about the library renovation starting in January.