Free workshop announced for the new playground

Funding for the public hearing comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Last month, more than 76 staff members took part in the technology refresh, which exceeded our goal. For the winter food drive, the plan is to start small by the end of the term and grow based on what board members tell us.

For the summer reading challenge, the plan is to start small starting in January and grow based on what parents and guardians tell us. We have posted an long-awaited guide for the new playground so that residents can plan ahead. The following steps explain how residents can take part in the facilities plan. For safety drills, the plan is to start small this fall and grow based on what parents and guardians tell us. Staff will hold an open session on school lunch menus at the gymnasium over the winter break.

Staff will hold an open session on safety drills at the community center by the end of the term. For the spring budget, the plan is to start small starting in January and grow based on what neighbors tell us. For the community garden, the plan is to start small during the first week of spring and grow based on what volunteers tell us.

Details on school lunch menus are listed below, along with who to contact at the cafeteria. The improved session covers the park cleanup and explains how board members can get involved every other Thursday. The committee will meet during the first week of spring to discuss graduation planning and share an improved session. In response to requests from staff members, we have added more time for school lunch menus. The volunteer-led plan covers the energy savings project and explains how parents and guardians can get involved over the winter break.
