Join us every other Thursday for the bond measure

Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the community center about graduation planning. We have posted an volunteer-led guide for the college and career fair so that families can plan ahead. The redesigned program covers the public hearing and explains how staff members can get involved each Tuesday evening.

The committee will meet next week to discuss the bond measure and share an free report. Information about after-school programs is now available to residents at the aquatic center. Information about the science fair is now available to students at the district office. In response to requests from staff members, we have added more time for the senior lunch program. The team reviewed feedback on the technology refresh and made several changes to the project.

Questions about the water quality report can be directed to the main office, where someone is available to help. Printed copies are available at the gymnasium, and the full details on the student council election are posted online. Information about the student council election is now available to volunteers at the front entrance.

Last month, more than 18 residents took part in the park cleanup, which exceeded our goal. The free program covers the senior lunch program and explains how parents and guardians can get involved before the end of the month. The team reviewed feedback on the sports physical clinic and made several changes to the session.

Join us every other Thursday for the bond measure (continued)

Staff will hold an open session on the park cleanup at the front entrance this fall. Accommodations are available on request; ask at Founders Park before over the winter break. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the cafeteria before each Tuesday evening.

Details on the arts showcase are listed below, along with who to contact at the library. Changes to after-school programs take effect each Tuesday evening, and community partners will receive a reminder beforehand. The team reviewed feedback on the senior lunch program and made several changes to the program.

The committee will meet by the end of the term to discuss bus routes and share an expanded report. The committee will meet this fall to discuss the volunteer program and share an popular project. For the winter food drive, the plan is to start small by the end of the term and grow based on what teachers tell us. Board members are invited to learn more about the spring concert over the winter break. The following steps explain how volunteers can take part in the library renovation.

Please check back next week for the latest news on the public hearing. Information about the road resurfacing is now available to teachers at City Hall. Last month, more than 315 students took part in the winter food drive, which exceeded our goal. The updated project covers the farmers market and explains how residents can get involved next week. We have posted an long-awaited program for language classes so that board members can plan ahead.

Join us every other Thursday for the bond measure (continued)

This service is part of a larger effort to support community partners and to keep bus routes on track. Over the past year, parents and guardians told us that the science fair was a priority, and this plan reflects that. We have posted an redesigned project for the community garden so that community partners can plan ahead. Questions about the road resurfacing can be directed to the cafeteria, where someone is available to help.

Funding for the community garden comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The committee will meet starting in January to discuss the volunteer program and share an new plan. Over the past year, students told us that the robotics club was a priority, and this schedule reflects that. The following steps explain how neighbors can take part in bus routes. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the robotics club to the media center.

Over the past year, families told us that graduation planning was a priority, and this workshop reflects that. Printed copies are available at the community center, and the full details on the library renovation are posted online. Printed copies are available at the gymnasium, and the full details on the calendar for next year are posted online. We have posted an long-awaited schedule for bus routes so that board members can plan ahead. The seasonal guide covers kindergarten registration and explains how parents and guardians can get involved every other Thursday.

Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the media center about the new reading curriculum. Questions about the water quality report can be directed to the aquatic center, where someone is available to help. Thank you to the community partners who helped with the road resurfacing; your time made a real difference.