Volunteer-led session announced for the facilities plan

Questions about crossing guard coverage can be directed to the front entrance, where someone is available to help. A redesigned report for bus routes will begin next week, and community partners are welcome to take part. Changes to the calendar for next year take effect each Tuesday evening, and students will receive a reminder beforehand. A expanded project for safety drills will begin on weekday mornings, and teachers are welcome to take part. Funding for the student council election comes from the regular budget and from local partners.

Accommodations are available on request; ask at City Hall before by the end of the term. Last month, more than 66 neighbors took part in attendance support, which exceeded our goal. Funding for the energy savings project comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The popular report covers kindergarten registration and explains how community partners can get involved every other Thursday. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the front entrance before this fall.

A expanded service for the summer reading challenge will begin throughout the school year, and residents are welcome to take part. The volunteer-led workshop covers attendance support and explains how families can get involved on weekday mornings. This plan is part of a larger effort to support parents and guardians and to keep the road resurfacing on track.

Thank you to the community partners who helped with the sports physical clinic; your time made a real difference. Thank you to the students who helped with the new reading curriculum; your time made a real difference. Last month, more than 298 parents and guardians took part in the spring concert, which exceeded our goal. Funding for the emergency plan comes from the regular budget and from local partners.

Volunteer-led session announced for the facilities plan (continued)

A free report for the science fair will begin during the first week of spring, and residents are welcome to take part. The committee will meet before the end of the month to discuss the volunteer program and share an volunteer-led service. Details on the robotics club are listed below, along with who to contact at the gymnasium. In response to requests from neighbors, we have added more time for the college and career fair.

For the water quality report, the plan is to start small this fall and grow based on what volunteers tell us. We have posted an long-awaited program for after-school programs so that community partners can plan ahead. A updated schedule for the library renovation will begin before the end of the month, and community partners are welcome to take part. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the media center about the robotics club. Staff will hold an open session on crossing guard coverage at the media center every other Thursday.

The team reviewed feedback on the public hearing and made several changes to the workshop. In response to requests from students, we have added more time for the water quality report. A redesigned service for the volunteer program will begin during the first week of spring, and community partners are welcome to take part. This program is part of a larger effort to support community partners and to keep the emergency plan on track.

A seasonal review for language classes will begin this fall, and parents and guardians are welcome to take part. Details on the public hearing are listed below, along with who to contact at City Hall. Details on the summer reading challenge are listed below, along with who to contact at the aquatic center. Please check back each Tuesday evening for the latest news on the spring concert.

Volunteer-led session announced for the facilities plan (continued)

Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the front entrance about after-school programs. For the senior lunch program, the plan is to start small next week and grow based on what staff members tell us. Funding for the farmers market comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The new project covers the sports physical clinic and explains how volunteers can get involved over the winter break. For after-school programs, the plan is to start small by the end of the term and grow based on what volunteers tell us.

Last month, more than 308 families took part in parent-teacher conferences, which exceeded our goal. Details on graduation planning are listed below, along with who to contact at the north campus. The team reviewed feedback on the new playground and made several changes to the plan. A long-awaited service for the public hearing will begin by the end of the term, and staff members are welcome to take part. A long-awaited report for the swim lessons schedule will begin this fall, and neighbors are welcome to take part.

Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the winter food drive to the library. The committee will meet during the first week of spring to discuss the spring concert and share an seasonal report. The team reviewed feedback on the water quality report and made several changes to the session. The committee will meet each Tuesday evening to discuss the calendar for next year and share an new project.

This review is part of a larger effort to support volunteers and to keep graduation planning on track. For the summer reading challenge, the plan is to start small each Tuesday evening and grow based on what volunteers tell us. Thank you to the parents and guardians who helped with the winter food drive; your time made a real difference.