Attendance support moves forward

We have posted an long-awaited report for the arts showcase so that families can plan ahead. Thank you to the parents and guardians who helped with the road resurfacing; your time made a real difference. Questions about the new reading curriculum can be directed to the north campus, where someone is available to help. Funding for the swim lessons schedule comes from the regular budget and from local partners.

Thank you to the community partners who helped with safety drills; your time made a real difference. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the aquatic center about safety drills. The new schedule covers the swim lessons schedule and explains how parents and guardians can get involved starting in January.

Funding for the spring concert comes from the regular budget and from local partners. We have posted an long-awaited project for parent-teacher conferences so that parents and guardians can plan ahead. Questions about crossing guard coverage can be directed to the library, where someone is available to help.

Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the swim lessons schedule to the cafeteria. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the summer reading challenge to the aquatic center. Funding for the water quality report comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The following steps explain how parents and guardians can take part in the swim lessons schedule.

Attendance support moves forward (continued)

Thank you to the students who helped with the facilities plan; your time made a real difference. Information about the bond measure is now available to teachers at the library. Staff will hold an open session on the college and career fair at the district office over the winter break. Questions about the track meet can be directed to the community center, where someone is available to help.

Changes to after-school programs take effect next week, and residents will receive a reminder beforehand. Details on language classes are listed below, along with who to contact at the library. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit City Hall about crossing guard coverage.

A volunteer-led review for the track meet will begin by the end of the term, and staff members are welcome to take part. Printed copies are available at the front entrance, and the full details on kindergarten registration are posted online. A redesigned schedule for the student council election will begin before the end of the month, and community partners are welcome to take part. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the aquatic center before before the end of the month. This guide is part of a larger effort to support board members and to keep the calendar for next year on track.

Staff will hold an open session on the emergency plan at the main office during the first week of spring. Details on the new playground are listed below, along with who to contact at the district office. Please check back over the winter break for the latest news on the robotics club.

Attendance support moves forward (continued)

Funding for the new playground comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Staff will hold an open session on after-school programs at the north campus during the first week of spring. Staff will hold an open session on crossing guard coverage at the north campus during the first week of spring.

The committee will meet next week to discuss the farmers market and share an long-awaited guide. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit Founders Park about parent-teacher conferences. Printed copies are available at the media center, and the full details on language classes are posted online. Please check back over the winter break for the latest news on the bond measure. Details on the library renovation are listed below, along with who to contact at City Hall.

Staff will hold an open session on the volunteer program at the cafeteria before the end of the month. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about the park cleanup to the gymnasium. Questions about the spring concert can be directed to the district office, where someone is available to help.

A new guide for the new playground will begin next week, and residents are welcome to take part. Details on the arts showcase are listed below, along with who to contact at the gymnasium. Residents are invited to learn more about after-school programs over the winter break. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about safety drills to the community center. In response to requests from parents and guardians, we have added more time for the water quality report.