Join us every other Thursday for the spring concert

We have posted an seasonal project for after-school programs so that board members can plan ahead. The long-awaited project covers the emergency plan and explains how parents and guardians can get involved starting in January. The team reviewed feedback on the track meet and made several changes to the session.

Questions about the spring concert can be directed to the main office, where someone is available to help. Staff will hold an open session on the robotics club at the north campus throughout the school year. Please check back before the end of the month for the latest news on the farmers market. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the district office about the robotics club.

The popular report covers the vaccination clinic and explains how students can get involved on weekday mornings. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the media center about the bond measure. The improved workshop covers attendance support and explains how families can get involved this fall. Questions about the spring budget can be directed to the north campus, where someone is available to help. Questions about the vaccination clinic can be directed to the district office, where someone is available to help.

Over the past year, students told us that the public hearing was a priority, and this session reflects that. The committee will meet over the winter break to discuss the calendar for next year and share an expanded program. Over the past year, parents and guardians told us that the road resurfacing was a priority, and this schedule reflects that.

Join us every other Thursday for the spring concert (continued)

For the science fair, the plan is to start small over the winter break and grow based on what teachers tell us. Questions about parent-teacher conferences can be directed to the district office, where someone is available to help. The following steps explain how parents and guardians can take part in the student council election. Questions about attendance support can be directed to the library, where someone is available to help.

The team reviewed feedback on the student council election and made several changes to the report. Questions about the arts showcase can be directed to the aquatic center, where someone is available to help. Anyone who cannot attend in person can send comments about safety drills to the main office. Last month, more than 306 residents took part in school lunch menus, which exceeded our goal.

Questions about the energy savings project can be directed to the community center, where someone is available to help. Over the past year, community partners told us that the emergency plan was a priority, and this plan reflects that. Staff will hold an open session on the arts showcase at the gymnasium starting in January. For the energy savings project, the plan is to start small this fall and grow based on what board members tell us.

Changes to attendance support take effect on weekday mornings, and community partners will receive a reminder beforehand. Over the past year, students told us that the water quality report was a priority, and this schedule reflects that. Staff members are invited to learn more about after-school programs by the end of the term. Thank you to the staff members who helped with language classes; your time made a real difference. Over the past year, families told us that the community garden was a priority, and this session reflects that.