Long-awaited program announced for the sports physical clinic

The committee will meet by the end of the term to discuss the calendar for next year and share an new guide. Printed copies are available at the library, and the full details on the emergency plan are posted online. Thank you to the residents who helped with the college and career fair; your time made a real difference. Accommodations are available on request; ask at City Hall before every other Thursday. The committee will meet next week to discuss the senior lunch program and share an long-awaited review.

Details on the new reading curriculum are listed below, along with who to contact at the library. Staff will hold an open session on bus routes at the library next week. Changes to the farmers market take effect during the first week of spring, and families will receive a reminder beforehand.

Accommodations are available on request; ask at the main office before every other Thursday. Thank you to the community partners who helped with the science fair; your time made a real difference. The committee will meet throughout the school year to discuss the calendar for next year and share an updated service. Please check back this fall for the latest news on the new reading curriculum. Last month, more than 458 neighbors took part in the public hearing, which exceeded our goal.

Questions about the new playground can be directed to the main office, where someone is available to help. Please check back next week for the latest news on the water quality report. Accommodations are available on request; ask at the main office before during the first week of spring.

Long-awaited program announced for the sports physical clinic (contin

Changes to the farmers market take effect before the end of the month, and students will receive a reminder beforehand. Over the past year, community partners told us that safety drills was a priority, and this plan reflects that. Please check back before the end of the month for the latest news on the facilities plan. Thank you to the volunteers who helped with the park cleanup; your time made a real difference. We have posted an expanded review for the robotics club so that teachers can plan ahead.

The following steps explain how community partners can take part in language classes. Thank you to the residents who helped with the library renovation; your time made a real difference. Information about the library renovation is now available to residents at the front entrance.

Over the past year, board members told us that the library renovation was a priority, and this service reflects that. Students are invited to learn more about the energy savings project on weekday mornings. Parents and guardians are invited to learn more about the new playground during the first week of spring.

Staff will hold an open session on the college and career fair at City Hall over the winter break. Please check back over the winter break for the latest news on the calendar for next year. In response to requests from families, we have added more time for the science fair. Funding for the arts showcase comes from the regular budget and from local partners.

Long-awaited program announced for the sports physical clinic (contin

For the robotics club, the plan is to start small throughout the school year and grow based on what volunteers tell us. A volunteer-led review for the volunteer program will begin each Tuesday evening, and residents are welcome to take part. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit City Hall about the track meet. Board members are invited to learn more about the arts showcase this fall.

Funding for the spring budget comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Neighbors are invited to learn more about the new reading curriculum during the first week of spring. Funding for the technology refresh comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The following steps explain how students can take part in the science fair.

Changes to the farmers market take effect over the winter break, and volunteers will receive a reminder beforehand. Please bring a photo ID if you plan to visit the library about the arts showcase. A volunteer-led workshop for the bond measure will begin throughout the school year, and residents are welcome to take part. Funding for the bond measure comes from the regular budget and from local partners. Please check back by the end of the term for the latest news on attendance support.

The long-awaited session covers the technology refresh and explains how residents can get involved during the first week of spring. For the emergency plan, the plan is to start small over the winter break and grow based on what neighbors tell us. Last month, more than 294 students took part in the arts showcase, which exceeded our goal.