Thank you for helping with bus routes

In response to requests from parents and guardians, we have added more time for the farmers market. Thank you to the volunteers who helped with the summer reading challenge; your time made a real difference. Staff will hold an open session on the college and career fair at the gymnasium every other Thursday. The redesigned session covers school lunch menus and explains how residents can get involved on weekday mornings. A volunteer-led service for the senior lunch program will begin during the first week of spring, and staff members are welcome to take part.

Questions about the calendar for next year can be directed to the north campus, where someone is available to help. This workshop is part of a larger effort to support teachers and to keep the track meet on track. Printed copies are available at the main office, and the full details on the track meet are posted online.

The new report covers the calendar for next year and explains how families can get involved before the end of the month. Please check back on weekday mornings for the latest news on the sports physical clinic. Funding for the robotics club comes from the regular budget and from local partners. The expanded program covers graduation planning and explains how neighbors can get involved over the winter break. In response to requests from families, we have added more time for the farmers market.

The following steps explain how board members can take part in the facilities plan. Over the past year, teachers told us that safety drills was a priority, and this service reflects that. The committee will meet each Tuesday evening to discuss crossing guard coverage and share an expanded guide. Last month, more than 248 community partners took part in the facilities plan, which exceeded our goal. The committee will meet over the winter break to discuss the water quality report and share an redesigned workshop.
